

A Great Start In Milwaukee

Lauren Tatum was born and bred in Milwaukee, but she recently moved to West Allis with her little one. Her new neighbors are a friendly bunch, but it's not like the old days when you might be welcomed with warm cookies. She did get a welcome package though. It came in the mail from an organization called Our Town America.

"When I first saw it I thought oh, junk mail! But then I did go ahead and open it up and I saw these different coupons and thought wow, what a really great organization. This is really nice," Tatum explains.
